

BRINGING YOUR PERFECT EVENT TO LIFE

SERVICES:

- VENUE FINDING
- PRODUCT LAUNCHES
- EXHIBITIONS
- CONFERENCES
- CHRISTMAS PARTIES
- AFTER WORK DRINKS
- CORPORATE HOSPITALITY

What's your vision of a perfect event? A worldwide corporate conference led by today's most captivating facilitators. A spectacular product launch at the trendiest venues with the hottest names in entertainment. An elegant dinner where you're pampered like one of the guests. Or a fairytale wedding that brings to life your childhood dreams.

Still there's one key ingredient you'll have to agree makes any event perfect -leaving the work to someone else. At CLK Events, we'll custom design and expertly manage the corporate event, private party or wedding that capture's your vision of perfection.

CLK Events is an event planning and management company serving clients across the globe - and as far as your imagination takes you. We have a passion for excellence, and it shows. From conception to flawless execution, we'll do more than simply put on a great show, we'll deliver a memorable experience - and make you look great in the process.

ABOUT US

Located in the UK - but with an international reach. Specialising in event management for corporate events, private parties and weddings, the list of events we coordinate and manage is only limited by your imagination. From themed parties and holiday celebrations to fundraising events and to brand rollouts, corporate meetings and international conferences - CLK Events is the company to turn to for all your event management needs.

Caroline Kay Inspires Confidence

At the helm of the company is Events Director Caroline Kay. Caroline embodies all the qualities that make a great events organiser - meticulous manager, creative thinker, effective communicator and compassionate listener. Prior to founding CLK Events, Caroline spent much of her career honing her event management skills in the corporate hospitality industry and corporate training and development, including the last 9 years as director and COO of an International Training and Development Organisation. She has organised and managed literally hundreds of events and conferences across Europe, the Americas, Asia, and the Middle East.

While Caroline's experience is extensive, even more impressive is her ability to engage clients and put them at ease. She connects easily with people, creating a level of trust that helps them to quickly open up and feel confident in her abilities. Whether you've worked with an events management company many times in the past or this is your first experience, she'll comfortably guide you through the process, letting you know what you can expect from her and what she will need from you.

CORPORATE EVENTS

We Get Down to Business When Planning Corporate Events

As experts in corporate event planning and management, CLK Events has the experience planning, managing and executing a full range of corporate functions and special events, including large international conferences, seminars, tradeshows, corporate receptions, product launches, employee recognition events and holiday and retirement celebrations. We have successfully delivered events in dozens of countries across several continents.

Our extensive relationships with vendors around the world allow us to develop cost effective events, finding the right venues at the right price and the quality suppliers whom we can trust. When developing large international conferences or events, we locate the best priced venue fitting our criteria that's the most accessible for participants to fly to. We'll manage every detail to your specifications and can even provide the facilitators, speakers, emcees and evening's entertainment to complete your corporate event.

Planning Strategically to Deliver Better Results More and more, corporate events are looked upon as a line item in the marketing budget and being challenged to deliver on the investment. Using our strategic approach to event planning, we will incorporate your corporate objectives into our planning process. So whether you're using your event as a sales tool, educational opportunity, team-building experience or company celebration, we'll work closely with you to develop and manage an exceptional event that delivers the results your seek entertainment to complete your corporate event.

